PROJECTS

ATS Friendly Resume Builder

I created an ATS-Friendly Resume Builder that helps users generate structured, professional resumes optimized for applicant tracking systems. The application allows easy input, formatting, and downloadable output. This project improved my skills in form handling, responsive UI design, JavaScript functionality, and building practical tools that solve real-world problems effectively.

Weather App

I developed a Weather App that provides real-time weather updates based on user location or city search. It displays temperature, humidity, and weather conditions through a clean, responsive interface. This project strengthened my skills in JavaScript, API integration, and designing interactive applications with dynamic data handling and user-friendly layouts.

Habit Tracker website

I developed a Habit Tracker web application that helps users manage daily routines and improve productivity by tracking task completion consistently. The application includes an interactive interface, progress tracking features, and responsive design. This project enhanced my skills in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and building structured, user-friendly web applications
